Approximately 82 girls from 11 states have enrolled in UD's upcoming Women in Engineering Program, which introduces high school girls interested in engineering and engineering technology careers with job opportunities and successful women engineers in the field. Now in its 15th summer, UD's innovative Women in Engineering Program has been featured in a recent New York Times career column that focused on ways colleges attract students to pursue engineering and science degrees.

The event-filled week kicks off with a banquet on Sunday, July 10 at 6 p.m. in the Kennedy Union Ballroom. For television coverage, Dayton inventor Jack Janning's invention workshop in Kettering Laboratories 224 on Monday, July 11 from 7:30 to 10 p.m. and Wednesday, July 13 from 8 to 10:30 p.m. provides a flavor of the week's activities. Representatives from local companies will present a mini trade show during the Industry Roundtable on Tuesday, July 12 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. in the UD Arena. Another highlight of the week is "Dinner with an Engineer" on Wednesday, July 13 from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Engineers Club.
